

19.

ABSTRACT

A method of defining Business Classes for modeling business activities comprising the steps of representing business activities as the interaction between one or more Business Classes, and entering into a computer and storing in 5 an electronic format the Business Classes and the relationships existing between the Business Classes.

4RB601!.DOC\88888888\116\222018.01